Volunteer Ministry Center 2015 Annual Report

A Message from the Chief Executive Officer

ocking doors are a privilege. If you don't have physical locking doors, you will make mental locking doors, as exemplified by the 'bag lady" who appears oblivious to those around her in public. Mental doors are a form of 'sanity', not insanity...people cannot safely open locked mental doors until there are safe physical doors to replace them."

Kirsten Anderberg

At a recent birthday luncheon at Minvilla Manor, one of the residents said that he had a special announcement and would like to share it with the community.

Every month two VMC Board of Directors host a birthday luncheon and celebration for the residents at Minvilla Manor, our permanent supportive housing opportunity for former chronically homeless individuals. All residents are invited and those with birthdays that month are recognized and celebrated with a birthday cake and small gift.

James (not his real name) said that he had a special and particularly meaningful announcement that he wanted to share with his fellow residents.

Standing before his peers, he said that for the first time in over ten years, he had just talked to his family and would be visiting them within the next day or so. Almost in tears, he added, "I just want you to know how happy that makes me and I am thankful for this place." For a moment, he had some of us in tears as well.

The work of the Volunteer Ministry Center is definitely about ending and preventing homelessness. However, another important outcome is the work of helping people connect or reconnect with family members and/or find a community that supports and loves them.

Throughout its history of nearly 30 years, VMC has been a distinguished community partner in the community's effort to prevent and end homelessness. VMC also has a reputation of providing compassionate services to its "neighbors."

The use of "neighbor" is very purposeful. We are serving our local neighbors. We know that 74% of those receiving services in our community had a last known address either in Knox County or one of the surrounding counties.

Neighbor is also used as a sign of welcome and hospitality. It is important that we provide an inviting and friendly place in order to offer a hope that is real and practical.

For many other individuals, like James, the therapeutic value of being connected with others and living in a community is as much of a tool for recovery as mental health and addiction disorder treatments. Having a closed door, as Kristen Anderberg suggests, indeed makes a difference. Home is both a place to close a door and a space where one is loved and has the opportunity to love as well.

This 2015 Annual Report, I trust, will give you insight and information regarding the fiscal stewardship and accountability to which we are committed. Also, the intent is to share how your investment is making a difference in the lives of our neighbors.

Many thanks for your generous and committed giving and support during the year of 2015. If you are new to VMC, give us a call or come by for a visit. We will be glad to introduce you to the work of ending and preventing homelessness.

Sincerely, and Peace,

Bruce W. Spangler Chief Executive Officer

A Message from the Chairman of the Board

here, but for the grace of God, go I.

If you are like me, you have probably had that thought when you have seen our neighbors on the street, downtown, or at an interstate off ramp. And, many of us at one time or another in our lives may have been one broken-down car, one major medical illness, or one missed job opportunity away from being one of those on the street who are being helped at Volunteer Ministry Center's Resource Center, Dental Clinic, Minvilla Manor, or the Bush Family Refuge.

I have the privilege and honor to serve as the Chair of the Board of Directors of VMC. I have the opportunity to see our staff and volunteers provide help to our neighbors who are often in desperate need. And I can tell you that their efforts to prevent and end homelessness work. Our neighbors are treated with compassion while at the same time are held accountable for their own efforts to remain in their homes or achieve housing.

Folks who come to the Bush Family Refuge are often in danger of losing their homes because they are behind in their rent or utilities or both. They are coming face to face with the prospect of living in their cars or on the street. For most of them that is a terrifying prospect. But, at VMC they find caring people who are ready to help them avoid the calamity of homelessness. Those who come to our Dental Clinic seek treatment for dental problems that can easily lead to serious medical problems. Our professional volunteers are there to provide the needed care and treatment.

The staff and volunteers at VMC who work with our neighbors in the Resource Center truly change lives by helping our neighbors leave the streets and achieve housing. Those who need additional levels of care and attention are helped by the staff and volunteers at Minvilla Manor.

You, our wonderful donors, provide the key for VMC to assist the homeless and those trying to avoid homelessness. Without your generous financial support, VMC could not fulfill its mission of preventing and ending homelessness. For that we are most grateful.

Thank you so much! John J. Brikingham

Our Programs — How You Helped Volum

Our Mission

SOur mission is to facilitate permanent supportive housing for those who are homeless and to provide services to prevent homelessness.

The Bush Family Refuge

Staffed primarily by trained volunteers, the Refuge sees individuals and families who are at risk of losing their housing. It provides counseling that can lead to housing sustainability as well as a small amount of financial assistance for rent and utility bills for those in crisis. Additionally, the Refuge can help with procuring eye doctor appointments, eyeglasses, prescription medications, clothing, furniture, etc. It also makes referrals to other agencies and services as appropriate. Each individual is seen in a private interview setting and confidentiality is maintained.

Volunteers and Interns are what keep operations going in the Bush Family Refuge.

ctually, they are big words. And they are words that have come to mean a lot to us over the past several years as our programming has matured beyond the simple shelter approach to the provision of life-changing services that require the participation of the client. You will see VMC using these words in our brochures, speeches, and written material about our work. These three words are: Compassion, Accountability, Results! We feel strongly that these words capture the essence of what VMC does and how we do

Here is what these words mean to us:

VMC Expenses

A Message from the Development Chairs

Through your generous support, the Volunteer Ministry Center has had another successful year helping to prevent homelessness in our community. We hope you will review the 2015 Annual Report, showing all that has been accomplished. None of this would be possible without each of our donors. Under the leadership of our outstanding staff and enhanced by many volunteers, VMC continues to grow what began in 1987.

Our signature event, Carry the Torch, featured best selling author

Sue Monk Kidd. Over 1000 guests enjoyed lunch and were charmed by her wit and warmth while raising funds to support VMC's programs and services.

Wine and Shine, the Don Sproles Memorial Dinner was a spirited evening of education and tastings of locally made moonshine and wine. A terrific silent and live auction topped off the evening. The planning of the 2016 event is well underway and will be in July at the Crowne Plaza. The venue change is due to the fact it has outgrown the Standard after only two years!

Our annual 5k Race and Dunkin' Donuts Run and Eat was a fun way to raise awareness and financial support for VMC. It was held this year in the Hardin Valley area and the change of location was well received. The 2016 event is planned for October 30 so mark your calendars!

The members of the Development Committee are hard working, dedicated and creative! We are grateful for their continued efforts towards the financial success of VMC. However, none of this would be possible without the support from our generous donors and involved community.

Thank you for your generosity,

There were plenty of family activities which were enjoyed by all.

Hunter Purnell VMC Board Member

When I started working downtown and saw the need to help our homeless neighbors who wanted to make a change in their lives, I knew I needed to be involved with the Volunteer Ministry Center. VMC's mission statement is simple yet clear: to prevent and end homelessness. VMC provides the avenues to make its mission happen through giving and serving.

The Don Sproles Memorial Dinner: Wine and Shine:

Sugarlands Distilling Company and the Crowne Plaza Knoxville were presenting sponsors for the second annual Wine and Shine event which took place at The Standard. Guests enjoyed tasting fine wines with a special presentation by Carol Costello, Ph.D. Director of the UT Culinary Wine and Beer Program. The expert staff from Sugarlands Distilling Company shared information about local moonshines and provided samplings of those. Add in great food from the Crowne Plaza and a live and silent auction, and it was a fun night for all.

Blue Grass Music was enjoyed by the guests attending the Don Sproles Memorial Dinner: Wine and Shine

Volunteer Program

Our volunteer program continues to grow every year. We have a monthly "Get Acquainted With VMC" every 3rd Tuesday of the month. We encourage anyone who is interested in volunteering to please notify the Development Department and join us. We also have a church engagement program aimed at solidifying our current church relationships and developing new ones.

Supporting VMC and Ways to Give

Gifts of Cash and/or Stock

Gifts of stock as well as gifts of cash are certainly appreciated. With gifts of stock you might benefit by not having to pay any capital gains tax on the increase in value of the stock. You might also be eligible to receive an income tax charitable deduction for the fair market value of the stock when you make the gift.

Charitable Giving Through Wills

The easiest way to make a charitable gift is by an outright bequest of cash in your will. Bequests may be specific amounts or assets and may be proportional or residual in nature.

Savings Bonds

A donation of savings bonds through your will can support VMC's continuing efforts.

Endowment Fund

Contributions to VMC's Endowment Fund help build our future and provide sustainability for the programs which continue to produce highly successful results in preventing and ending homelessness.

Ken Knight VMC Board Member

The Volunteer Ministry Center helps people by giving them the opportunity to refocus their lives in a positive direction while ensuring those being helped are fulfilling their responsibility to be part of the process of improvement. VMC is changing people's lives in a way that enables them to have dignity and pride in accomplishment.

Financial Accounts

Most checking, savings and brokerage accounts can be bequeathed to the Volunteer Ministry Center, Inc. through a simple "payable on death" designation with your financial institution.

Matching Gifts

Participating companies match the amount of dollars given by employees to the qualifying charity of their choice. The company gives the matching gift only after the employee donor has made their gift and completed the company's matching gift process.

IRAs and Retirement Plans

If you have funds in an IRA or employer-sponsored retirement plan, you can name the Volunteer Ministry Center, Inc. as a beneficiary. Naming VMC as primary, partial, or contingent beneficiary may provide tax savings.

Charitable Trusts and Charitable Annuities

Charitable Trusts and Charitable Annuities are additional avenues for giving to the Volunteer Ministry Center. For more information concerning these methods of Planned Giving, please contact the VMC Development Department at 865-524-3926 x229.

Bob and Molly Joy

The Volunteer Ministry Center refers to those served as "neighbors." We believe that a community is a group of people who are neighbors and in a compassionate community, neighbors help neighbors! We are pleased to be part of VMC's compassionate community. We support VMC because it is effective as 93% of homeless neighbors who achieve housing are able to retain it.
